Chiang Kai-Shek Returns To Battle Against Reds

THIRD WAR IS FORECAST IF CHINA LOSES

Generalissimo Pledges To Share Hardships of Countrymen "On the Brink of Disaster"

JUNCTION IS CAPTURED

Shanghai, April 27—(P)—Chiang Kai-Shek today returned to the battle against Communism, forecasting a third World War if China is lost.

His country, he said, would be the tinderbox and furnish the men for that war if the Chinese Communists win.

The generalissimo pledged to share the hardships of his countrymen "on the brink of disaster." He said he could not disavow his responsibility at such a time.

The statement—his first since resigning from the presidency Jan. 21—was issued from Chikow, his ancestral home. But foreign and Chinese newspapers said he was back in Shanghai, soon perhaps to become another civil war battlefield.

He spoke as director of the Kuomintang (Government) party.

Communists forces swirled around Soochow (Wuhsien), only 50 miles to the west, as Chiang's statement was made public.

One unconfirmed report said the Reds had taken the important junction from which they may pivot toward Shanghai or wheel to Hangchow, 85 miles south of Shanghai.

Nationalist sources insisted Soochow was still in their hands and that the Communists had lost 5,000 men in the battle. Another report said advance Red units had passed Soochow and were marching eastward on Kungshing.

Rail service between Shanghai and Hangchow had not been interrupted. Both seaports may become escape avenues for the Nationalists.

At least two ship loads of Nationalist soldiers and equipment sailed out of Shanghai today. Likely they were headed for Formosa where Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's followers have established a bastion.

Possible use of Hangchow for a sea escape route for the government's 300,000 men reported in that area depends on shipping. Hangchow's port is not suitable for heavy shipping and only light craft would be able to use the port.

With Nanking and a large part of the area just south of the Yangtze in the hands of the Communists, the government had fled to Canton, far to the south.

The majority of both British and American Nationals in Shanghai had elected to remain and take their chances in the Communist capture of the city.

Chiang promised full support to the government of Li, but pledged to "share the sufferings of my fellow countrymen." Thus he may have chosen this means of coming from retirement to lead China in her battle against Communism.

He called on his people to fight as hard against Communism as they did against the Japanese in eight years of war. At the same time he admitted some of the shortcomings of his own 22-year rule of the vast country.

The generalissimo said the Reds by crossing the Yangtze had blundered into the same military errors that mired the Japanese in their conquest of China.

He recalled that only four years ago Nanking was liberated from the Japanese.

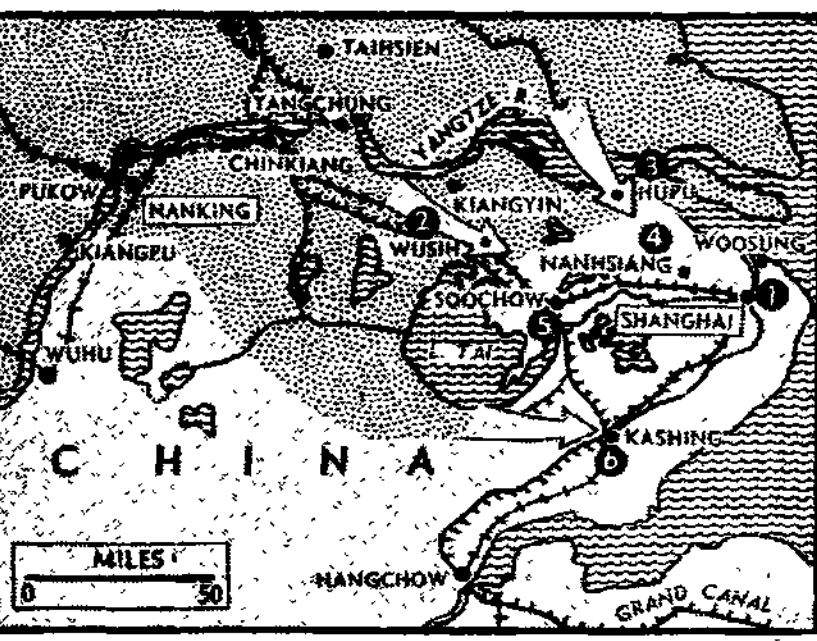

Several radio appearances this week. Luckily, both men were declared to be in excellent shape after bringing the Sunlight Lady down on Municipal Airport here at 11:45:30 a. m. (PST) yesterday. A crowd of 8,000, including their families, greeted them.

It was their fourth try at the endurance record. Nearly 12 days earlier they broke the old record of 728 hours, set 10 years ago by Wes Carroll and Andy Schlieper of Long Beach, Calif.

Barris, 36, and Riedel, 35, were examined by physicians soon after they landed. Dr. Legrand Spencer said Riedel was in the better condition because he took more exercise.

This consisted of lifting 25-pound cans of gasoline from a speeding jeep during refueling operations.

Americans Stranded in Shanghai

More than 2000 Americans were stranded in Shanghai (1) as the entire U. S. fleet suddenly fled for the safety of the open sea when Communists made a quick thrust against Woosung forts. Shanghai is also threatened by twin Red drives from Wushu (2) and Hupu (3), with Reds reported already infiltrated to Nanshiang (4). Heavily reinforced Nationalists made a fighting stand north of Soochow (5), key rail city. Kashing (6), rail city on the south-eastern escape route to Hangchow is apparently still in government hands. The Nationalists have thrown up a 50-mile defense line to protect Hangchow.

Civil Rights Amendment May Delay Labor Bill in House

Washington, April 27—(P)—A northern Democrat said today he will try to tie a civil rights amendment to the Wood labor bill, which was introduced in the house with the support of southerners and Republicans.

The measure was offered by Rep. Wood (D-Ga.) as a substitute for the administration's Taft-Hartley repeal bill. The Wood bill would repeal the Taft-Hartley act too, but it would then write back into law many of the Taft-Hartley features.

As the house went into its second day of debate on a new labor law, Rep. Cavalcante (D-Pa.), a freshman lawmaker, said he will propose amending the Wood bill to make it an "unfair labor practice" for either an employer or union to discriminate against a worker because of race, creed or color.

Any bill with that amendment in it would have a difficult time getting southern support. But the amendment itself would have the same trouble.

Technically, the measure now under debate is the bill introduced by Rep. Lesinski (D-Mich.) and supported by President Truman and Labor unions. It would wipe out Taft-Hartley and replace it with an enlarged version of the 1935 Wagner act.

But the Wood bill is scheduled to be acted on first, because a substitute bill must be disposed of one way or the other before the original legislation.

The vote on the Wood bill—due tomorrow—is expected to be close. Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) and Rep. Priest (D-Tenn.), assistant Democratic house leader, both told reporters it won't pass. Rep. Halleck (R-Ind.) said it will pass.

If it fails, the house will plunge into consideration of amendments to the Lesinski bill—which is identical with a measure approved by the senate labor committee. Senate debate is still some weeks off.

Chances are neither the Wood nor Lesinski bill will pass the house without being amended in some respects. There were even rumors that neither bill will be passed at all.

URGES CRACK DOWN

Pittsburgh, April 27—(P)—The better traffic committee has recommended the city crack down on traffic violators by hiring constables to serve warrants on motorists who ignore traffic tags.

Donald M. McNeil, city traffic controller, has built up a backlog of 195,000 tags on which motorists have neither appeared for hearings and nor paid fines.

Several radio appearances this week. Luckily, both men were declared to be in excellent shape after bringing the Sunlight Lady down on Municipal Airport here at 11:45:30 a. m. (PST) yesterday. A crowd of 8,000, including their families, greeted them.

SOVIET OFFER ON BLOCKADE IS DISCUSSED

American and Russian Representatives Meet in New York to Continue Talks on Issue

NOTE IS DELIVERED

New York, April 27—(P)—The United States delivered a note to the Russians here today asking for a formal statement as to when and on what conditions they will lift their Berlin blockade.

The note was taken by Philip C. Jessup, American ambassador-at-large, to Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Jakob A. Malik.

Jessup called on Malik at the Soviet offices on Upper Park Avenue at 12:30 p. m.

The text of the American communication was not made public, but informed quarters said its main purpose was to shift the Berlin negotiations to a formal basis and get Russia's views down on paper.

Previously no views had been exchanged in writing since Jessup first brought up the question in an informal talk with Malik at Lake Success Feb. 15.

Jessup brought the note with him on his return to New York this morning after talks in Washington yesterday with President Truman and State Department officials.

Before going alone to see Malik, Jessup met with members of the U. S. delegation to the U. N. at the American headquarters, 2 Park avenue. He disappeared later and was understood to have called on British and French representatives to show them the note.

No information on the talks will be given out immediately after the meeting, the spokesman said. Whatever information is given out is expected to come from a news conference later in the day at Lake Success.

The United States hopes to learn at this meeting whether Russia is ready to lift the blockade of Berlin without attaching unacceptable conditions.

Two previous meetings were held at the Soviet delegation headquarters on Upper Park avenue here. The series started when Philip C. Jessup, U. S. ambassador-at-large, contacted Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Jakob A. Malik Feb. 15 in the delegates lounge in the U. N. headquarters at Lake Success.

A flying visit of Dean Rusk, assistant secretary of state, to New York last night gave rise to speculation that he might figure in the next step. Rusk said he had come to attend a dinner at the home of U. N. Secretary-General Trygve Lie. Another guest at the dinner was Andrei A. Gromyko, Russia's No. 1 deputy foreign minister.

As the direct superiors of Jessup and Malik, it was pointed out, they would be in a position to step into the informal discussions if the occasion presented itself at the dinner. There was no immediate indication, however, that they did so.

Administration Forces Push Ahead With Plans to Enact Governor's Housing Program

Harrisburg, April 27—(P)—Administration forces pushed ahead today with plans to enact Gov. James H. Duff's $15,000,000 housing program in the closing hours of the 1949 session of the General Assembly.

The house-passed legislation came up for debate and possible amendment in the upper branch with GOP senate leaders confident of final approval tomorrow without substantial change.

It would allow flat grants to builders and housing authorities to cover up to 35 per cent of construction costs of low rental housing and at the same time give cities the choice of devoting their shares of the fund for slum clearance.

Once considered shelved, the program was revived and adopted by the house yesterday with only 24 dissenting votes. And of these 21 were Republicans. A few defections in the GOP ranks in the senate also were expected in the senate.

Still unsettled, however, is a senate-house dispute that has stymied final action on a $28,000,000 beer tax measure. Not more than a month. The senate is insisting on a provision granting a $2,300,000 rebate to beer distributors as a breakage fee.

The dispute must be settled in the next 48 hours if the general assembly adjourns on Friday as the Republican leaders in both houses now plan.

Labor union organizations scored a victory, meanwhile, when the senate backed down on a dispute over compensation legislation to avoid another eleven-hour deadlock with the lower branch.

The Republican minority agreed to amendments to base benefits under the workmen's and occupational disease compensation laws on a five-day normal work week instead of actual earnings during periods of partial unemployment.

Chairman James S. Berger (R-Butler), of the Senate Labor committee, submitted the changes. He previously had succeeded in trimming out a similar proposal inserted in the administration compensation legislation by the house.

Other developments in the final adjournment rush included:

Loaded School Bus Hit By Fast Train

Philipsburg, April 27—(P)—A fast freight train struck a loaded school bus near here today, killing an eight-year old boy.

Eleven other children and the driver escaped injury.

State Policeman Edward T. Lyons said the New York Central freight train struck the rear of the bus, splitting it open.

The dead boy, Joseph Hugney, Frenchville, was the only child sitting in the back of the vehicle. He died of a fractured skull at the Philipsburg State Hospital in this Centre county town shortly after the accident.

Lyons said the bus driver, Ernest Hugney, grandfather of the dead boy, told him he stopped at the crossing and then started across without seeing the approaching train.

The accident happened at a crossing on a country road 12 miles west of here. The bus was enroute to the Girard township consolidated school at Frenchville.

The Pennsylvania Federation of The Blind opposed the bill on the grounds that a blind person must be without resources. His bill would allow school districts to levy at least one tax on minerals.

Rep. Paige Varner (R-Clarion) drafted the proposal for the levy on mineral resources. His bill would allow school districts to impose a tax on mined or processed inside the district of up to 10 cents a ton.

The senate-passed measure was modified in committee yesterday to allow cities, boroughs and first class townships to levy wage taxes on both residents and non-residents.

Rep. Adam Bower (R-Northumberland) and the Republican leaders drafted the amendment at the insistence of Philadelphia lawmakers who objected to the precedent even though the non-resident wage tax would not apply to that city.

Philadelphia's wage tax was enacted under an earlier law and any changes in the 1947 local tax law would not affect it.

SENTENCE SUSPENDED

Pittsburgh, April 27—(P)—Declaring a $75 a month salary was "certainly not adequate," a federal court judge suspended sentence for a woman bank teller who pleaded guilty to misappropriating funds.

Judge Frederick V. Folmer yesterday placed Marie A. DuMoulin, 42, on probation for three years. She admitted taking $3,049 from the First National Bank of Point Marion, Fayette county. She said the bank had been reimbursed.

SECRETARY OF STATE SAYS PACT AND PROGRAM NEEDED TO BOLSTER WORLD SECURITY

Washington, April 27—(P)—Secretary of State Acheson pleaded with congress today to approve both the North Atlantic Treaty and the proposed $1,450,000,000 arms aid program to bolster "worldwide security."

Acheson appeared before the senate foreign relations committee at the opening of hearings on the pact which was signed here April 4. It requires approval by a two-thirds vote of the senate before it can be ratified.

The cabinet officer termed the 12-nation security treaty and the foreign military assistance program parallel ways of building world security and said he believes both are necessary.

But he met head-on one of the biggest questions raised by some congressmen—critics by saying that the treaty does not formally bind congress to approve the proposed military program.

Both the treaty and the arms assistance program are aimed frankly at building up western strength against fears of Russian aggression.

Acheson himself told the senators that the two measures stem from Soviet foreign policies, declaring:

"The sense of insecurity prevalent in western Europe is not a figment of the imagination—it has come about through the conduct of the Soviet Union."

Nowhere in his 4500-word prepared statement did Acheson mention the latest development in the cold war—Russia's apparent willingness to lift the Berlin blockade in favor of big four talks on the whole German problem.

Acheson described the Atlantic treaty and the military assistance program, as well as the European recovery program and help for Greece and Turkey, as "all designed to this end."

"You may ask," he told the senators, "why it is not enough to have the Atlantic Pact alone since it accepts the principle that an attack on one is an attack on all. Why does the executive believe that it will be necessary to have a military assistance program in addition to the commitments contained in the pact?"

"The answer is found in the insecurity and the fears of western Europe and of many of the other freedom loving nations of the world. Basic to the purposes of the military assistance program is the necessity of promoting economic recovery and political stability by providing a basis for confidence, a sense of security and a reasonable assurance of peace among European peoples."

"The military assistance program will improve the defenses and military capabilities of these nations, and thus increase their will to resist aggression and their ability to maintain internal security."

Acheson said "it is understandable" that western European countries could not easily look forward to the security of the pact.

Free-for-All Debate on Local Taxes Shaping Up In House

Harrisburg, April 27—(P)—A free-for-all debate on local taxes shaped up in the house today as it took up the thorny issue of restricting the taxing powers of municipalities and school districts.

The debate was on a senate-passed measure to prohibit local levies under the 1947 local tax law on coal, farm and manufactured products. School districts also would be unable to impose wage taxes on non-residents.

In addition, ceilings would be imposed on amusement, wage, sales, and mercantile trade levies and per capita taxes and only Pittsburgh would be permitted to tax personal property.

The potent Democratic minority along with independent Republicans planned a drive to prohibit any wage taxes at all, while from another direction came a proposal to allow school districts to levy at least one tax on minerals.

Rep. Paige Varner (R-Clarion) drafted the proposal for the levy on mineral resources. His bill would allow school districts to impose a tax on mined or processed inside the district of up to 10 cents a ton.

The senate-passed measure was modified in committee yesterday to allow cities, boroughs and first class townships to levy wage taxes on both residents and non-residents.

Inquiry Into Resignation In Prospect

Washington, April 27—(P)—Republican senators today called for a detailed inquiry into the reasons for secretary of the Navy Sullivan's resignation.

Sullivan quit yesterday with a blast at secretary of defense Johnson for halting construction of the USS United States, which would have been the world's largest aircraft carrier.

While Chairman Tydings (D-Md.) of the armed services committee chalked up the matter as a "closed incident," GOP committee members said they thought the group should dig deeper into the dispute.

Democrats appeared willing to follow Tydings unless Sullivan himself should ask a congressional airing of his differences with Johnson.

But Senator Bridges (R-NH), top-ranking GOP committee member told reporters he thought there was "an understanding" with Tydings to call up Sullivan for an explanation "in view of the conflicting statements that have been bandied about."

Shortly after his resignation was announced by the White House, Sullivan released a letter he had sent to Johnson in which he stated, in effect, that he may had not been given an opportunity to present its side of the carrier question.

The project had been under attack by Air Force backers who (Turn to Page Eight)

Many Letters For Suspect In Murder Case

Dover, Del., April 27—(P)—Mrs. Inez Brennan, held on a murder charge in Delaware's "lonely hearts" case, is still receiving answers to a magazine advertisement in which she sought employment as a housekeeper, state police said today.

Col. Herbert E. Barnes, Delaware state police commander, said that since Mrs. Brennan's arrest on April 12 more than 30 letters have been sent to the Brennan farm in response to the ad.

The letters, Col. Barnes said, were all opened for police examination as matter of routine.

Mrs. Brennan and one of her three sons, Robert, 15, are held on murder charges in the fatal shooting of Wade N. Woodriddle, 67, Bedford, Va.

Two other sons, George, 17, and Raymond, 23, are held as accessories.

Robert has been quoted by state police as saying in a signed statement that he killed Woodriddle and also Hugh Schultz, 61, Concord, N. H. In previous statements, Mrs. Brennan and her sons all said she was responsible for Schultz's death, Barnes said.

Barnes said Mrs. Brennan met her husband, a "lonely hearts" correspondence and said robbery was the motive in each case.

Meanwhile, Delaware state police continued their search for six men from Pennsylvania and New Jersey who wrote Mrs. Brennan and have not yet been located in extensive police checking.

Three-Year-Old Tot Survives Night Alone in the Mountains

Mercersburg, April 27—(P)—A three-year-old boy, who wandered away from his mother into the mountains, was found today apparently in good condition after an all-night ordeal.

A rescue worker came upon Billy Clever in a smoke-filled mountain area along the big inch pipeline at a spot about three miles from his home on the edge of the Blue Ridge mountains. The area is only two and a half miles from the Mason-Dixon line in south-central Pennsylvania.

Billy was scratched and his clothes were torn but he did not seem to be suffering from exposure. He was taken home.

The tot's mother, Mrs. Harry Clever, took him with her yesterday afternoon when she went into the mountains near her home for mushrooms. He wandered away from her.

Bloodhounds from the Rockview State Penitentiary joined searches in hunting for the boy. More than 300 men were beating the bushes in the area when Newt Brice, a worker at the tannery where the father is employed, sighted the youngster. The boy was frightened and ran, but Brice overtook him.

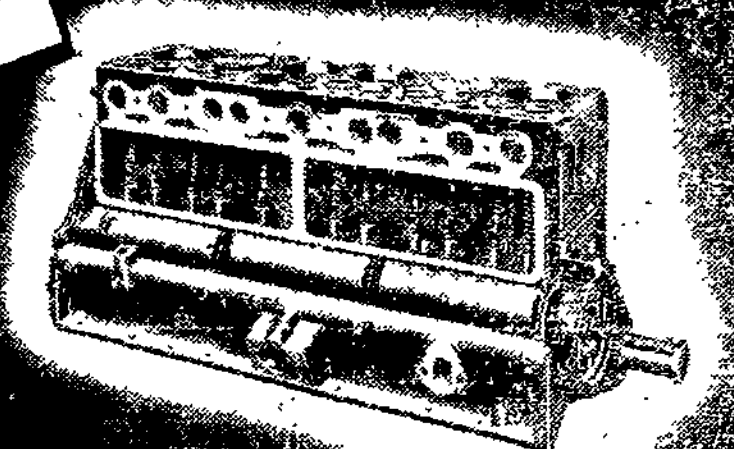

The Clever family live in a mountain settlement known as the "Punch Bowl" at the edge of the Blue Ridge mountain about eight miles from Mercersburg in central Pennsylvania. The settlement got its name from its location in a depression in the mountain.

Mrs. Clever searched the mountainside for a while for the youngster and then returned to the settlement to sound the alarm.

Final Action On School Bus Law Is Near

Harrisburg, April 27—(P)—Legislation requiring automobile traffic to halt while school buses are loading or unloading reached its final legislative hurdle today. The measure passed by the house, a month ago came up for a final vote in the senate. The bill was brought in a position for final action after Sen. Rowland Mahany (R-Crawford) offered a series of revisions. The measure requires traffic coming from both directions to come to a complete stop while a school bus is unloading or loading students. Traffic must remain halted until it receives a go-ahead by the bus driver, or the bus resumes motion. Mahany's amendment would eliminate this requirement when a bus is stopped in an off-highway loading zone. The measure also requires school districts transporting pupils by school bus to establish and maintain off-highway loading zones near the schools. Another provision requires that

High Student Council Plans For Election

As a pre-election step designed to help students of Warren High school make a more thoughtful choice of president and vice president for next year's Student Council, nominees for the offices were introduced to juniors and sophomores in an assembly held this morning. Nick Mangus, Student Council chairman in charge of the spring elections, called to the platform each of the candidates and gave a resume of the school activities in which each had worked during the year. In the election of candidates a week ago, juniors nominated Barbara Anderson, Dean Blair, Carolyn Cowden, John Daley, Diane DiMarco, George Hesch, Audrey Kiernan, Louis McCollough, John McGarry, Timothy Mulhaupt, Charles Reese, Marilyn Rutledge, William Schellhammer, Clyde Smith, and Richard Updegraff. Sophomores have chosen as their candidates for the vice presidency Richard Campbell, Robert Barnes, Robert Foley, Patricia Hamm, Robert Hampton, Dan Jackson, Barbara Lundahl, Joan Massa, Mary Ann Massa, Connie Peterson, Richard Rutledge, Paul Shattuck, and James Stevenson. Final elections will be run off within the next few days.

Warren Aviator Pilots Plane With Newsmen Over Volcano

When daily newspapers printed in Honolulu chronicled the most recent volcanic activities of Mauna Loa, the name of Captain Myron F. Kirberger, of Warren, was prominently mentioned in several of the dispatches.

Kirberger, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Kirberger, Sr., of 118 North South street, was listed as one of the pilots of the USAF C-47 which flew newsmen over the crater to view the results of the latest restlessness on the part of Pele, Hawaiian goddess of fire.

One article, written by Buck Buchwach of the Advertiser staff, said that Kirberger alternated with Captain Merlin Vowinkel, of Sheboygan Falls, Wis., at the controls of the twin-engine Beech C-45 of the Pacific Air Command. Both men, he writes, are stationed at Hickam Air Force Base.

Quoting from his article: "At times we were 1,000 feet over the top of Mauna Loa, and without oxygen bottles we found ourselves almost panting in the chilly plane. The visibility was excellent and we weren't bumped around nearly so much as during the first eruption, when our bigger PBV flying boat bucked and tossed like an un-lamed broncho."

From the same issue it is learned that airmen at Hickam Field got the most appropriate lecture of their lives on that day. At 11 a. m. Dr. Thomas A. Jagger, noted volcanologist, was lecturing to an information and education group on the eruption of volcanoes, when word was received in the lecture room that Mauna Loa had begun rumbling again.

Pictures illustrating articles in both the Advertiser and the Star-Bulletin were taken by an Air Force photographer aboard the C-45 flown by the Warren man.

Another issue of the Honolulu Advertiser lists Captain and Mrs. Kirberger among costumed guests attending a Hawaiian party given by Major and Mrs. Warner M. Brundrett and Lt. and Mrs. F. W. Reagan, who are leaving soon for new stations.

"Kirby", as he is known to friends around town, has been in the Air Force since the beginning of the war and served as a pilot in France, Italy and the Asiatic Command before going to the Pacific. He has been in Hawaii since last July and was joined there last fall by his wife and young son, Lanny. Mrs. Kirberger is the former Valma Saylor, daughter of Mrs. Ann Brewster, 14 Broadhead avenue.

TO GIVE TESTS
Mrs. Julia Decker, of the Pennsylvania State Employment Office, will be at Youngsville High school on Friday afternoon to give typing and shorthand tests to graduates who will be seeking clerical employment following commencement.

ASSEMBLY AT BEATY

Hy-Y Club members will be special guests at 2:10 p. m. Thursday for an assembly of eighth and ninth grade boys of Beaty Junior High school. In addition to some musical numbers, the guests will conduct a panel discussion on the aims and objectives of their organization.

IS X-RAYED

Mrs. Lucille Fredericks, 1104 Pennsylvania avenue, east, was x-rayed at Warren General Hospital Tuesday morning for fractured ribs and pelvis, received Sunday morning when she fell on the porch steps at her home while on her way to church. She had just recovered from an attack of flu when the accident occurred.

NAMED TOASTMASTER

R. R. Underwood, president of the Knox Glass Associates, Inc., will serve as toastmaster during the 27th annual dinner meeting of the Oil City-Franklin Traffic club scheduled at 6:30 p. m. tonight in the Knights of Columbus auditorium. The principal speaker for the evening will be Robert J. Miller of Pittsburgh, freight traffic manager for the Pennsylvania railroad. Dinner music will be provided by A. Ruby and his Swing Quintet and a floor show will be presented following the dinner program.

MADE A BIG HIT

The Three Sharps made such a profound hit at the White House Inn last Friday and Saturday nights that the proprietor, Dennis J. DiPierro, has decided to have them entertain for three nights a week—Thursday, Friday and Saturday in the future. While the increased parking space makes it possible to cater to the larger crowds, the popular demand seems to be for additional time—hence the change. Several large parties have also been arranged at this popular spot for the immediate future, one being held last week, another tonight and several more coming up.

COURT TERM CANCELLED

Venango county criminal court scheduled for the fourth Monday of April was cancelled by Judge McCracken. His order stated that cases listed for trial at this session of court are not sufficient in number or importance to justify expense of the jury. The Sheriff was scheduled to notify the jurors, and the names of the jurors were ordered returned to the jury wheel.

MEADVILLE ACTS

Uniform observance of daylight saving and half-day closings on Wednesdays during June, July and August were recommended by the executive committee of Meadville Chamber of Commerce's retail council at a special meeting last week. Several stores observed full-day Wednesday closings last summer. The committee's recommendation probably will place all stores and business places on a uniform half-day closing schedule this year.

AT CONVENTION

Mrs. Palmer Davis, Sr., Welcome Wagon hostess for Warren, is in Bedford Springs this week to attend a welcome Wagon convention being held in the Bedford Springs Hotel Monday through Thursday. Welcome Wagon was founded in 1928 by Thomas W. Briggs, of Memphis, Tenn., and has expanded to over 800 cities in the United States and Canada. Plans for expansion are a keynote of this year's convention, with the purpose of furthering the steady impressive progress of this international service.

PUERTO RICAN WORKERS

Twenty-nine Puerto Rican laborers arrived at the Dunkirk airport last week, the vanguard of 400 expected by the time the fruit and vegetable harvest is in full swing. The bulk of the force, about 175, are expected by plane on June 1st, Charles Rath, manager of the Brant Grovers Cooperative, which imports the workers, said today. About three plane loads will come before that date and perhaps 50 additional workers will come later for the bean harvest about August 1st.

Salesman Is Charged With Taking Purse

An alert housewife who notified an alert policeman in Youngsville yesterday afternoon resulted in the arrest by Chief of Police J. E. Chappel of a magazine salesman who stole a wallet containing $26 from a purse belonging to Mrs. Richard Hutley, Pittsfield road.

According to Chief Chappel, a magazine crew was working that vicinity, and Mrs. Hutley told him that she heard a noise in the front of her home. She went to investigate and noticed a man walking away through the yard.

Going to her purse, she found that the wallet containing the money was missing and at once notified Chief Chappel, who, in company with the manager of the crew, arrested the salesman. He was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Brazee last evening and charged with larceny.

Upon restitution of the money and payment of the costs, he was let go, and was fired by the manager on the spot.

The crew was registered at a hotel in Warren and represented the Union Circulation Company, Chief Chappel said.

Christ For Warren Series In Local Church

In attendance at The Christ for Warren evangelistic campaign last night, which was so large that extra chairs had to be placed in the auditorium, were delegations from as far away as Chautauque, Jamestown and other points.

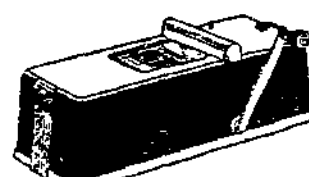

In the musical part of the program were two solos by Jimmie Davis, "I Have Found A Resting Place," and "I Will Not Have To Cross Jordan Alone"; and a very well rendered number by the union choir, "Redeemed."

The Rev. John Barbee's message last night was on "Death Among the Living." He first showed, with a large number of quotations from the Bible, that the death of sin is working in every person who has not had a vital experience with Jesus Christ. From that, he proceeded to describe how this power of death grows until the whole life is finally lost in Hell.

The evangelist's message tonight will be on "Dangerous Guides." He has stated that this message has a great deal of humor in it. The public is urged to hear Mr. Barbee and Mr. Davis this evening at 7:30 o'clock at Bethlehem Covenant church.

INTERNATIONAL TIT-FOR-TAT

Soviet Russia, her Berlin blockade smashed by the Allied airlift and her whole German policy facing defeat, seems to be making a tremendous concession in the cold war that has been waging for almost two years.

She is reported to be willing to lift the Berlin blockade if the western Allies will lift their own retaliatory blockade and set a date for a foreign ministers conference to discuss the whole German problem.

In their essentials these are the terms to which the Allies agreed last summer and which Russia rejected, being unwilling to give up the blockade weapon until the ministers actually met.

It's like an international game of tit-for-tat. The cold war, it's been called!

The Russians haven't been winning it. They started strong. Now the west is strong. So it's time for a Russian move.

That's why their talk of calling off the Berlin blockade is no surprise.

By the end of 1947, after several big meetings, it became clear the four wartime Allies couldn't agree on the kind of government they wanted for Germany.

The Russians wanted, generally, a centralized government. The other three nations wanted one that was fairly decentralized.

In the decentralized kind a new Hitler or a revolutionary group like Communists would have a tougher time grabbing control.

So early in 1948 the three western powers began talking of setting up a separate German government in their zones of Germany. The Russians didn't want that.

The Communists grabbed control in Czechoslovakia in February, 1948. On March 1, 1948 the western European countries announced plans to set up a military alliance to defend themselves against attack.

They signed the alliance on March 17. On March 20 a meeting between the representatives of the U. S., Britain, France and Russia broke down at Berlin. The Russians walked out.

Meanwhile, the Marshall plan was ready. Communists all over Europe denounced it.

It started April 3 but on April 1 the Russians threw a blockade on Berlin. It wasn't a complete blockade. But it made it a little tougher for the U. S., Britain and France to send supplies into their sectors of Berlin.

On June 7, 1948, the three big western powers agreed on setting up a provisional German government in western Germany. This angered the Russians more. In the meantime, the three western powers and Russia had argued about the kind of money to be used in Berlin.

It must have been a blow to the Russians when on June 11, 1948, the senate passed a resolution which in effect said the U. S. ought to take part in a military alliance with western Europe.

On June 18, 1948 the three western powers announced they'd reform the money in their zones. And on June 19 the Russians slapped a real blockade on Berlin. Since then the western powers have had to supply their sectors of Berlin with an airlift.

On March 18 the western powers announced they were ready to sign the Atlantic Pact. Three days before that, with the world full of news of the pact, the Russian representative in the U. N. talked again with the U. S. delegate about the Berlin problem.

On Monday it was announced the Germans had cleared the decks for setting up a new government in the western zones. And yesterday Russia began talking publicly of lifting the Berlin blockade.

They may think by this they'll block setting up the new government but the western powers say they'll go ahead with the government anyhow.

Some concern is being felt for the health of President Truman's federal health insurance plan. It is feared that it may have contracted a chill in the sudden change from the warm comfort of the White House to a cool reception on Capitol Hill.

A Washington dispatch says that the government is "just holding its own" as tax rebates come close to equaling tax revenue. Well, turnabout is fair play. Now the government knows how the taxpayer feels.

The U. S. Army has added a bagpipe band and among its members are soldiers Chatel, Logan, Orenstein, LeDuc and Katzman. Typical Scots.

A writer asks, "What's become of the women who used a hook rug?" Maybe their time isn't up yet.

The Brannan Farm Plan

Here And There

Here's a "fashion note" printed in the Warren Ledger of April 30, 1880, that makes interesting reading now when haberdasheries are showing the latest in spring and summer headwear for men: "The regulation silk hat is smaller than last season, with a narrow brim. It is so slightly 'belled' as to have a rather contrary effect, and though not a particularly handsome affair, must be worn, because 'it is the only correct thing.' No young man need now be in dread of the aggravating and pride-levelling salutation, 'Hat, where are you going with that boy?' as a style for new beginners has been devised this season which is materially and proportionately reduced from crown to rim, so as to be very becoming to young men. Derby hats, with full round tops and narrow, shapely rolled brims, are to be worn in black, pearl, and dark mixtures; a few with partly square crowns, will also undoubtedly be seen on the streets of Warren. Stiff hats, like silk hats, are also shown in reduced shapes for young men, who seem more than ever to be uppermost in the minds of the enterprising pattern makers."

Potpourri: The United States Junior of Commerce is to be commended for its sponsorship this week of National Mental Health Week in conjunction with the National Health Foundation. The objectives of the campaign are: "To promote popular understanding of mental and emotional disorders, of the means now available for their prevention and control, and of the steps necessary to promote mental health; to secure improved treatment and humane care for the patients now in mental institutions; to encourage social and scientific inquiry by which new means may be developed for the promotion of health and the prevention and treatment of mental and emotional disorders." Dell Darling, Erie's number one circus fan, is former resident of Warren, is authority for the announcement that Cole Brothers' Circus is booked for an appearance in Erie next month. What is believed to be one of the last shipments of wild cherry logs to be made from this section are ready to be sent by rail to a southern furniture manufacturer by James Paul, Erie county lumbering man, who cut them from a tract between Waterford and Union City. Cherry, because of the scarcity, brings a premium price from furniture makers. . . . Ballots will be in the mails before the end of the week for the election of a new board of governors of the Warren County Motor Club and members will be urged to return them as soon as possible so that they may be tallied before the annual meeting scheduled for May 16th at the Warren High School auditorium. . . . The Mohr Printing is busy engaged in printing the annual High School Senior Class publication "The Dragonette", which reminds us that but little more than a month of the present school term remains. . . . A total of 600 applications for installation of natural gas heating facilities have been received by the Jamestown Gas Company, according to Harold J. Nourse, manager there. In order to install gas heating facilities the customer must first obtain a permit from the gas company. . . . Sunday's postponement was the first experienced by the Cleveland Indians in over a year. The team went through the entire 1948 season without a single home game called off due to rain, cold or wet grounds. . . . Corry High school's opening game line-up against Warren on Friday is expected to include two freshmen. They are Pitcher Ronnie Shoop and Second Baseman Jimmy Borden. . . . Wildflowers in the surrounding woodlands are prolific. Due mainly to the copious April showers during the month. . . . Alcoholics Anonymous members are planning a big meeting in Kane on May first with a dinner and speakers to be at the session. . . . According to reports reaching Here Forestry Department experts from Sheffield say they have completed a substantial planting project in the Western area. . . . This is the 11th consecutive year of broadcasting coast to coast for the world's greatest negro choir (Turn to Page Five)

Here's How Brannan Plans to Raise Per Capita Farm Income

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—If the class will pull up a chair and pay close attention, an attempt will be made to explain the inexplicable. Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan's new farm plan, that is.

Primary objective of the Brannan plan is to raise the average per capita farm income. For 1948, this average was $909. The first question is, how much is it to be raised and how do you figure how much to raise it for the year 1950?

Here you have to delve into a few statistics. You begin with Bureau of Agricultural Economics figures on cash receipts from farm marketings over the past 10-year period. They varied from $8,000,000,000 in 1939 to $31,000,000,000 in 1948. The 10-year average is $21,000,000,000.

The purchasing power of the dollar was not the same throughout this 10-year period, however. In terms of real purchasing power of the farmer's dollar, this 10-year, 1939-1948 average farm income is calculated to be $18,200,000,000.

THIS $18,200,000,000 is considered the base below which the farmer's income should not be allowed to fall. This is the stabilizing factor of the Brannan plan. It must now be translated into terms of 1949 or 1950 dollars, to reflect how much the farmer's costs have gone up over the past 10 years.

To do this, the base income figure is multiplied by the "parity index" figure. This parity index is stated as a percentage of prices paid by farmers for their cost of living and cost of farming operations, including seed, machinery, taxes and interest. The average of 1939-48 is considered as 100. On that basis, the index today stands at 144 per cent of the average.

The base figure of $18,200,000,000 multiplied by 1.44 gives roughly $26,200,000,000. This is the "national income farm support standard." Under the Brannan plan, total cash receipts from farm marketings would not be allowed to fall below this standard, in 1950 dollars.

The problem now is to convert these national totals into average support prices for individual commodities. The first step in this process is to determine what's called the "price support factor." This is done by dividing the above calculated national farm income support standard by the actual 10-year average of cash receipts. In other words, divide $26,200,000,000 by $21,000,000,000. The answer comes out 1.25.

The 10-year average price for each commodity is now multiplied by this price factor. This gives the support standard price. Take a few typical examples.

THE 1940-49 average price for corn has been $1.17 per bu. Multiplying by the factor 1.25 gives the support standard price $1.46. The 10-year average wheat price is $1.50 per bu. Multiplying by the factor 1.25 gives the support standard price $1.88.

By way of comparison, the present Chicago price on May corn is around $1.35, on May wheat around $2.25. This comparison illustrates how the Brannan plan would work, and how it would not work. Wheat and cotton market prices are now higher than the calculated support standard prices. So the Brannan plan would have no effect.

The present price of corn, however, is 11 cents a bushel lower than the calculated support standard price of $1.46 a bushel. In this hypothetical case, the difference would have to be paid for by the general taxpayer.

Nobody has yet stuck his neck out far enough to estimate how much this plan would cost. The advantages claimed for the Brannan plan is that it would stabilize farm production, stabilize farm purchasing power and get away from the present parity support price plan, which is now costing the government a lot of money.

The steam-roller offensive of the powerful Red armies in China has created a fresh major crisis in the now-not-so-cold-war of the isms.

The western powers had scarcely finished signing the Atlantic pact, to halt the Communist drive across Europe when Chinese chieftain Bao Tze-Tung forced the line of the mighty Yangtze. Thus almost overnight the west was confronted with another threat.

The weight of the attack had been shifted from the front defenses to those in the rear.

True the new thrust in the Orient is much further away than was the drive across Europe. The present danger is less imminent, and in that sense the situation is perhaps not so critical. Time now is with the west, just as it suddenly has turned against the Nationalist forces of China.

It's idle to speculate on how much time may be involved in the Chinese conflict. We know that the Communist resources, both military and economic, are great, while the Nationalist government's resources are terribly weak.

The nationalists' most powerful defense against the Red forces from the north—the Yangtze—has been smashed. Their capital of Nanking has been occupied by the enemy—a shocking blow to the morale of the nation. A million and a half Red troops are ready for the drive southward through China.

What other estimate can be made than that the Nationalist situation is desperate? However, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek is said to have planned a defense by zones as the Reds advance. Many of those zones with their troops are in the hands of war lords and, if they remain loyal to Chiang, the Nationalist defense might give the Communists a surprise. Speculation at this time is idle. We shall have to await developments.

5 doctors prove this plan breaks
the laxative habit

If you take laxatives regularly—here's how you can stop!
Because 5 New York doctors now have proved you may break the laxative habit. And restoring your natural powers of regularity. Eighty-three per cent of the cases tested did it. So can you.
Stop taking whatever you now take. Instead: Every night for one week take 2 Carter's Pills. Second week—one each night. Third week—one every other night. Then—nothing! Every day: drink eight glasses of water; set a definite time for regularity.
Five New York doctors proved this plan can break the laxative habit.
How can a laxative break the laxative habit? Because Carter's Pills "unblock" the lower digestive tract and from then on let it make use of its own natural powers.
Further—Carter's Pills contain no habit-forming drugs.
Break the laxative habit . . . with Carter's Pills . . . and be regular naturally.
Wash away, overeating, overwork make you irregular temporarily—take Carter's Pills temporarily. And never get the laxative habit. Get Carter's Pills at any drugstore for 39¢ today. You'll be grateful the rest of your life.

TITUSVILLE DISPUTE

Merchants in favor of Friday night shopping hours in Titusville have apparently won over officers in the Retail Merchants Bureau. Following a meeting in that community last week it was decided that 37 stores would open for business Friday night, May 13. Before that time, however, it is anticipated that all of the retailers will make the switch in the interests of unity. Directors of the bureau a year ago rejected a plan to switch to Friday night.

DRAKE DAY OBSERVANCE

The Drake Well Advisory Board, meeting yesterday at the Colonel Drake Hotel, discussed a proposal to devote two days—Friday and Saturday, August 26 and 27—to an observance of the completion of the Drake Well. It is altogether probable the plan will be carried out. The exact anniversary is August 27. Nothing as elaborate as the Diamond Jubilee of Oil in 1934 would be attempted. That will be left to 1909, which will be the centennial.

CANCER DEATHS

An average of 90 deaths a year from cancer has been noted in recent years in Crawford county, according to the County Cancer Society. John F. Shanley of Meadville, chairman of the society's fund campaign opening in Crawford county during the first week in May, said statistics compiled by the society show that as 90 persons succumb to the disease annually, four times that number in this county live on to suffer from the affliction. Crawford county's quota in the fund campaign this year is $10,500, Shanley said.

COON HUNT IN DAYLIGHT

An exciting coon hunt occurred in Meadville on Saturday. A large coon climbed up the brick wall of the high school auditorium and when District Game Protector George W. Kepler was notified he summoned Deputy Joseph Wisnart of Guys Mills, Route 1, Wisnart and George Daub, industrial art instructor, obtained a long pole and fastened a net to it. Wisnart climbed on a window ledge, with Daub clinging to him, and tried to reach the animal. But Mr. Coon was not to be caught in that way. He leaped backward and landed on his feet on the ground. Several persons gave chase and he was finally caught.

TO OBSERVE DST

The County Commissioners at Meadville have announced that court house officials and workers will observe daylight saving time. Chairman Wright said the court house would operate on D.S.T. to conform with area offices, industries and businesses, as well as adjacent county courts which already have announced D.S.T. schedules. "Speaking for the Crawford County Commissioners, I would say that the board appreciates the inconvenience fast time causes farmers—if the commissioners had it within their power, they would not suggest adoption of daylight saving time," Wright said. "However, since area industrial plants, the banks, and business offices, including City Hall, are to observe it, it will mean less confusion if the court house also observes daylight saving time," Wright added.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Credit should be extended WNAE for its forum on the Hospital Problem. This forum brought to light the answers to many puzzling questions that have confronted the general public.

The greatest difficulty seems to lie in the raising of money for a new hospital on a more suitable site. A student of psychology learns that with all the people behind a cause, not the wealthy exclusively, there is little reason for it to fail. Illustrations of such were shown by the U. S. during the last war and previous wars where the odds seemed very great. Therefore if the people of Warren desire a new hospital it is only logical that they will support one. If the hospital finance committee and hospital board proceed only half-way in remodeling the old hospital they can only expect half-hearted support.

It has been known and accepted that hospitals are non-profit organizations and, therefore, it wasprising to hear that the Warren General Hospital did not lose one cent last year. Perhaps Johns Hopkins did lose $900,000 last year but they have the research centers, laboratories and the educational facilities that Warren General lacks. There would be little criticism of profit made by any organization if it were invested in scholarships, research development and the general welfare of the community.

CORE OF THE HEALTH DISPUTE

By James Marlow

Washington—(AP)—Lift the lid on the argument over a government health program and you find this:

It is not an argument over whether the government should interest itself in health. There is a government health program now. The problem is how far should such a program, backed with government money and some government control, be allowed to go.

This will give you an idea of how deep the government already is involved—in a limited way—in helping the nation's health.

1. It is giving states up to $75,000,000 a year to help them build hospitals; it gives money to strengthen their public health services; it gives states money to strengthen their public health services; it gives states money for mother and child care and to help crippled children; it is spending money on research in cancer, dental, mental, heart and venereal diseases.

2. In addition, 18 1/2 million veterans are eligible for care in government hospitals; every veteran with a service-connected disability is entitled to complete care for that disability at home or in a government hospital; there are 26 government Marine hospitals for the care of merchant seamen and the Coast Guard; men in the armed services and their dependents get medical care; and some government agencies have their own medical programs. The government operates more than 200,000 hospital beds.

Both President Truman and those who oppose his ideas on a national health program are pretty generally agreed it is necessary to expand No. 1 with even more and wider government help.

But it is on the next part of Mr. Truman's program—national compulsory health insurance—that the president and his opponents disagree.

Says the president: "It is no longer just the poor who are unable to pay for all the medical care they need—such care is now beyond the means of all but the upper income groups."

So Mr. Truman wants the people to have health insurance through a tax on payrolls, just as they pay for their social security benefits.

Who'd be covered? Employees, and the self-employed, and their dependents, pretty completely. How big a tax?

Three per cent on a payroll, with 1 1/2 paid by the worker, 1 1/2 paid by the employer, on salaries up to $4,800.

Doctors wouldn't have to take part if they didn't want to. They could choose their own patients. Patients could choose their own doctors.

Mr. Truman and his supporters say the program could be carried out with a minimum of government interference.

But the opponents contend the Truman program would put far too much control in the government's hands. They want people, if they're going to take part in

Barbershop Chorus to Join School Group in Music Week Presentation

Speaking for the Warren High School music department, Director Harry Summers announces today that arrangements have been completed for the annual National Music Week concert to be presented next Tuesday evening, May 3.

The program will be given in the gym at Beaty Junior High School and will get under way promptly at eight o'clock.

There is never any admission charge for the annual Music Week presentation and directors and young musicians join in extending a cordial invitation to all parents and friends to be in attendance. School groups participating will be the Dragon Band and High School Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Summers, and the High School Choir, under the leadership of Carroll Summers.

Pleased with the very evident success of last season's innovation, the school musicians have again extended an invitation to the Warren Barbershop Chorus to be special guests for the National Music Week event.

In addition to a group of selections sung by the chorus, its members will join with the other groups and some outside talent in presenting a special Fred Waring arrangement of "Onward Christian Soldiers" for the grand finale. Additional details of the program arranged for the evening will be announced later.

Installation For East Street Unit

Installation of newly-elected officers featured the April meeting of East Street PTA, held at the school building. Following the opening prayer by Mrs. E. K. Rogers, minutes of the last meeting were read by Mrs. John Mihalko, secretary, and the treasurer's report was presented by Mrs. William Cashman.

Mrs. James Richards, president of the Community PTA Council, was in charge of installation of the following slate: Mrs. T. W. Alrich, president; Mrs. John Mihalko, vice president; Miss Jane Ito, second vice president; Mrs. William Cashman, treasurer; Mrs. William Hall, secretary.

Mrs. Hugh Robertson, retiring president, thanked the officers, teachers and members for their splendid cooperation during the past year. Mrs. Aldrich, newly elected, expressed her thanks for the honor bestowed upon her and pledged her sincere efforts toward the success of the coming year.

The program chairman, Mrs. George Nelson, introduced the speakers of the evening. Mrs. Frances Carlson, dental hygienist, spoke on children's teeth and their care, explaining the use and advantages of the sodium fluoride treatment now used by many dentists and dental hygienists for prevention of tooth decay in children.

Mrs. Gertrude Lawrence, art supervisor, talked on making and judging winning posters. She had the recent Clare Tree Major prize-winning posters on display and explained their merits, also why they were chosen.

Attendance award went to Mrs. Gary's second grade room. It was announced delegates representing this unit at the Northwestern District conference in Erie on May 3

Is Wife Duty-Bound to Have All Children Husband Wants?

IS it a wife's duty to have as many children as her husband wants? The answer to that blunt question—put to me recently by a woman reader—may once have been an unqualified "Yes." But today most women figure they should be the judge of how many children are "enough."

Whether or not a woman is right in taking that stand, it seems to me, depends on several things.

Was she honest about not wanting a large family before she was married? Any man who wants "a lot of kids," marries a girl who lets him think she does, too, and then finds out she doesn't want to be tied down by a large family's demands, has a right to feel cheated. And he probably will.

Is the husband a good father? If he shares the responsibility for the care of the children, and enjoys them, his wife will probably feel more duty-bound to give him the number he wants than if he is the kind of man who wants a large family, but doesn't want to be bothered with them.

SOME MEN SHIFT RESPONSIBILITY

SUCH men love to brag about their children—but shift all responsibility for looking after them to Mama. They play golf while Mama baby-sits. They wake Mama up when Junior needs attention in the night. They want the children kept quiet when they are at home. Is the wife a good mother—the kind who could take a large family in her stride? There are some women who find children so trying, they actually couldn't handle a large family.

Is the husband stable and dependable, and financially able to provide the necessities for a large family? Such a man certainly has more right to a large family than the man whose wife may have to go to work to help support the children they bring into the world.

A woman may have the right to say how many children there are to be—but she shouldn't decide it from a purely selfish angle. Yet there are plenty of women today who say "no more children" after one or two for no better reason than that they don't want to be "tied down."

National YWCA Week

Mrs. Leonard Knupp and Mrs. Carl Whipple, co-chairmen of the local YWCA's membership committee, extend a cordial invitation to all members of the association to join in an informal get-together which will be held in the activities building at 8 p. m. Thursday in observance of National YWCA Week. Mary Church, executive director, will bring some first-hand reports from the national convention held in San Francisco in March and Mrs. Milton G. Perry will conduct a devotional period. Special music will be vocal selections by Miss Frances Peterson and Mrs. Foster Maze, with Mrs. Whipple playing their accompaniments. The evening's schedule also calls for refreshments.

April 24-30 marks the second annual YWCA Week to be observed throughout the United States, in 440 towns and cities, on 609 college and university campuses, and in 1,550 rural units. And there are YWCA's in 68 other lands today, all united under the sign of the Blue Triangle, all dedicated to "the glory of God and the service of young women."

Thus, when one joins the Warren YWCA she is joining a worldwide fellowship of other women and girls with the same problems, the same hopes, the same goals in life. In other nations and in other lands around the globe, this international fellowship of women and girls bound together by a common purpose—the purpose of friendship and cooperation with others who are neighbors even though we do not know them—provides a sense of security in an insecure world. It gives them a sense of belonging.

The theme for this year's National YWCA Week is "The YWCA—Your Window to the World." And it means just that to the teen-ager, the young woman, the student, the home woman, of communities around the globe. Three million women and girls in the United States are finding keys to happiness in the YWCA; three million say it is a window to the world—a new world of broader knowledge, greater tolerance and richer understanding. Three million women can't be wrong so local members are asked to make a special effort to find out how their YWCA can be their "window to the world."

will be Mrs. William Fuelhart, Mrs. John Mihalko and Mrs. Harold Baker. It was also stated that East Street unit will participate in the luncheon given by the PTA Council members at the YWCA, May 17, by furnishing dessert and coffee. A committee headed by Mrs. R. F. Swanson will be in charge.

To conclude the evening, refreshments were served from a prettily appointed table, Miss Holt and Mrs. Barclay presiding. Mrs. Folmer Yerg was chairman of the committee, with Mrs. A. M. Michell, Mrs. A. E. Elmhurst, Mrs. David Miller, Mrs. John Hughes, Mrs. L. Ed Johnson, Mrs. Henry Long and Mrs. C. C. Arbogast, fourth and sixth grade mothers.

Social Events

WILL HIGH SCHOOL BE UNDER QUARANTINE?

Rumor has it that mumps are the current topic of conversation in Warren High school, particularly among members of the senior class, and there has been some mention of quarantine. However, it may all have come about because the seniors selected "The Mummy and the Mumps" for this year's class play and will present the three-act comedy to the public on Thursday and Friday evenings of this week, with curtain time at 8:15. The High School Orchestra, under the direction of Harry Summers, will provide music between the acts. Tickets may still be purchased for the production and reservations may be made by calling the high school office, 2461.

TEEN-AGE PARTY AT PLEASANT GRANGE

All teen-agers of the Pleasant township community are again invited by the Grange for a party to be held in the Grange hall at 7:30 p. m. Thursday. In addition to the arrangements for entertainment, those in charge indicate several items will come before the young people for discussion and decision.

Sponsors of these parties report a wonderful response to last week's party, with 42 young people in attendance. Refreshments concluded an evening that proved to be lots of fun for all concerned.

GENERAL MEETING OF WSCS MEMBERS

Members and friends of the First Methodist WSCS are reminded of the general meeting at the church Thursday evening, when the committee will provide dessert and coffee for a three-course dinner to be served at 6:30 o'clock. Mrs. Otto M. Hauser, of Chautauque, N. Y., recently returned from the Philippines, will speak on a topic significant and important to women today. All women of the congregation are cordially invited and new members of the church are especially urged to attend.

BOY CHOIR TO SING FOR LACY BOY SCOUTS

Friends of Boy Scout Troop 11, sponsored by the Lacy PTA, are reminded of the benefit concert to be given at the school at 8 p. m. Thursday, when the Warren Boy Choir will appear under the direction of Eyrion Swanson. All boys of Troop 11 have tickets for the affair and anyone not able to contact one of the Scouts may call 2508-J or 1957-J.

VFW AUXILIARY

Installation of officers for the coming year will feature the regular meeting of the VFW Auxiliary, scheduled at 8 p. m. Thursday in the post rooms. All former officers are requested to be in attendance at this time. To conclude the evening, the social committee will serve refreshments.

Chapter 3

THE trailer camp loomed ahead. A grassy spot, marked by half a dozen trailers parked humbly close, shaded by tall, feathery-looking Australian pines, with the blue shimmer of the lake visible through the trees. Felicity blew her horn.

There was a weatherbeaten small cabin at the far end of the camp. As Felicity's horn broke the noonday stillness, a screen door slapped somewhere and a plump, middle-aged woman with graying hair done in a loose knot on the back of her head, her clean print dress covered by a white apron, came towards her. Felicity liked "Ma" Green at sight. Her gray eyes were twinkling and cheerful; her plump face was highly colored, guileless alike of makeup or wrinkles.

"Howdy," she greeted Felicity cheerfully. "Like to stay awhile?" "Yes, we would—very much," said Felicity warmly, relishing the woman's friendly welcome twice as much after the frigid reception they had had on the other side of the Lake. "But—I have some children. Do you mind?"

"Do I mind? Not if you don't. After all, they're your young ones," said Ma Green comfortably, looking more sharply at Felicity. "But land sakes, girl, you look mighty young to have a bunch of kids."

"They're my brothers and sisters," Felicity answered her. "And we'd like to stay all winter."

"Well, now, that's just fine. If you're going to be sort of permanent, you'd better have a 'hitch' down near me, where you won't be disturbed by the coming and going of the transients."

Ma Green showed Felicity to a parking space down at the head of the lake, where the trailer stood broadside to a glorious view of the Lake. Neither Felicity nor Garrett was aware of Tippy's slowness in leaving Garrett's trailer, nor of her uneasiness that sent her back now and then to peer in at the window.

"They were all about the table," Tippy the last one in and insisting on a seat nearest the door, and they were just beginning the meal when suddenly the music of the next-door radio broke off and they heard a man's excited voice, saying:

"We interrupt this program to bring you a news-flash. Allan, the year-old son of Susan Fleming, often mentioned as 'the richest girl in the world,' has been kidnapped from the beach in front of the Fleming home. Every bridge and boat-dock leaving the island of Palm Beach is under heavy guard."

There was a small crash. Felicity turned and saw Tippy sitting white-faced, a splash of milk on her face, the broken glass in her plate. Tippy's eyes were wide with terror and she was shaking violently. "I betcha I've got Mrs. Fleming's baby," she confessed, now in such terror that she had no longer any thought of concealing the reason for her earlier uneasiness.

"Tippy—tell me—what did you do?" demanded Felicity.

Tippy slid down from her chair and pattered out of the trailer. Garrett and Felicity following her, the other children crowding behind. They opened the door of Garrett's trailer and climbed in, the others following her. And there on Garrett's bed, hemmed neatly in by pillows, lay a sleeping baby. His scrap of a white sun-suit revealed plump golden-brown limbs and an adorable head covered with little "duck-fish" of soft dark curls. Tippy looked at the baby and then fearfully up at a horrified Felicity; and Tippy whimpered, "I—I'm sorry, Fliss. Only he was so cute—and he wanted to come with us. I didn't know he was somebody else's baby. I thought maybe he'd like to live with us—"

"Oh, Garry—Garry, what am I going to do?" whispered Felicity so desolately that Garrett pulled himself together with an effort. "Your English needs correcting, my angel," he told her grimly. "You mean what are we going to do."

Garrett said sternly, "Here—snap out of it, Fliss. Pull yourself together. We have to work fast. Before the alarm spreads very far, Jay, take the children back to the trailer and give them their lunch and side head on them until we come back. Promise not to let one of them out of your sight for so much as five minutes, will you, old man?"

"Okay, Garry. Come on kids," said Jason, herding the children before him.

Tippy, trying to slide out unnoticed, caught Garrett's stern eye and paused uneasily. "You're coming, too, my lady," said Garrett. "So you can tell Mrs. Fleming all about why you thought her baby would like living with the Hornes."

"Yes, sir," said Tippy faintly, too scared to do anything but obey, and far too terrified to think of exerting any of her small charm on this irate young man in the hope of escaping punishment.

The guards at the bridges were stopping and searching all cars coming from the island. The alarm was so newly sounded that they had not yet organized themselves to stop any cars going to the island.

CENTRAL UNION
The Warren Central WCTU held its April meeting in the First Methodist church. Mrs. George Johnson led devotions on the theme, "Come Ye Apart," with the meditation topic "On a Mountain Apart" and Mrs. Duff singing "What a Friend We Have in Jesus." Mrs. Phillip Mains sang "Beyond the Sunset" in memory of Mrs. E. W. Kinander and Mrs. M. A. Fehlman, recently deceased, and Mrs. J. N. Grady offered prayer.

Mrs. Mains brought some "dos and don'ts" for institutes and a paper on speech contests, and Mrs. George Johnson gave a reading from The Union Signal, bringing out the thought that "the least we can do is to smile when we meet people. There are so many heartaches and broken homes, even children need a smile of encouragement."

It was also stated in the meeting that some of the members had "counted the places where drinks are sold and found we have 32 places in town, two to every 1,000 people instead of one." Members were asked to write to the Liquor Control Board and protest.

Announcement was made that a mother and daughter meeting will be held next month, with an invitation to other unions to join in the program.

REBEKAH LODGE

Friday will be the regular six o'clock supper night for members of Lady Warren Rebekah Lodge, with the business meeting convening at eight o'clock.

FBI Nails Florida Fugitive

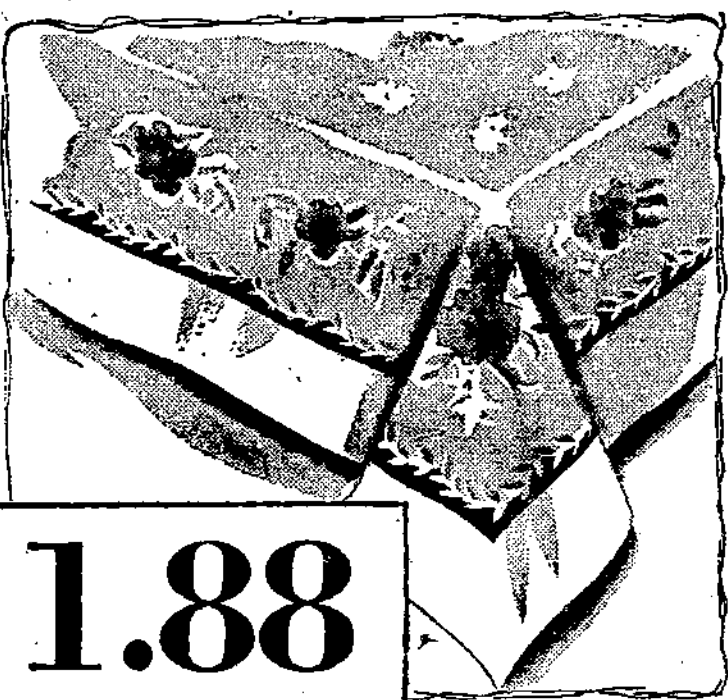

Clyde Milton Johnson, 30, described as one of the nation's most dangerous criminals, was critically wounded by FBI agents in a gun fight in downtown Indianapolis, Ind. Johnson, a Florida jail-break fugitive sought for a $40,000 Memphis, Tenn., bank robbery, surrendered in a doctor's office after he was shot while trying to elude a special detail of FBI agents. An Indianapolis General Hospital doctor examines the wounded man.

SPRING CONCERT BY SCHOOL CHOIR

For the community's lovers of music, the A Cappella choir of Warren High school is planning a very different spring concert at Beatty Junior High school gymnasium on Thursday evening, May 19. "Carmen", beloved opera by Bizet, condensed into a concertized version which uses much of the most tuneful music of the opera, will be sung by the choir with orchestral accompaniment.

Junior and Senior Prom at Youngsville

The Junior class and Youngsville PTA are co-sponsoring a junior-senior prom to be held Friday evening in Youngsville High School gymnasium from 8 to 11 o'clock. Briggs' Orchestra will furnish the music.

Refreshments will consist of punch provided by the PTA and cookies and sandwiches made by a committee of junior class mothers.

New and novel decorations are being planned by a junior class committee composed of Jim Connor, Bud Jones, Don Walter, Carol Zeliff, Joan Welsh, Yvonne Scheil and Reid Detar.

The receiving committee will consist of Reid Detar, Don Walter and Nancy Burleigh.

Chaperones for the affair will be Mr. and Mrs. Orval Borton, Mr. and Mrs. Armon Johnson, Mrs. Rosadell Galmish and Miss Joyce Weldon.

Social Events

DORCAS SOCIETY

Dorcas Society members of Calvary Baptist church will hold their monthly meeting in the church parlors at 2:30 p. m., when Rev. John Barbee, evangelist, will be the guest speaker and Jimmie Davis will sing. The hostess, Mrs. Norman Ahlgren and Mrs. A. Davidson, extend a cordial invitation to all members and friends to be present.

SPRING CONCERT AT SUGAR GROVE

Mrs. Ruth Titchner, of Russell, who is music instructor for the Sugar Grove-Farmington schools, extends a cordial invitation to the public to attend the concert to be given in the Sugar Grove High School auditorium at 8:15 p. m. Friday. This is the first of a series of spring programs and will be given by the choral groups and band.

SEEK EXTRADITION

District Attorney Sidney Hewes of Chautauque county left Tuesday for Bloomington, Ind., to appear at an extradition hearing in an attempt to return Miss Helen Whitmyer to that county to face grand larceny charges. Miss Whitmyer, a former nurse at the Casadaga Hospital, was picked up in the Indiana city four weeks ago but so far has refused to waive extradition. She is charged with defrauding another nurse at the institution of more than $600.

FLEET TRUCK SCHOOL

The eighth meeting of the Fleet Truck Supervisor's School will be held this evening at the United Refining Company Offices. This evening's session will be in the nature of a review of certain principles of supervision and an indication of results that can be achieved by an effective supervisory program. This school sponsored in Warren by the Warren Chapter of the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association, has been very well received by those taking the course and both officials of the P. M. T. A. and the instructors for the course feel that it has been very successful up to date. There are three more meetings scheduled before the course ends, including the graduation dinner meeting to be held May 18th. The meeting to night, as all other meetings, will start at 7:00 p. m.

OBITUARIES

JOHN FLEMENTOSH
John Flementosh, aged 46, and resident of Torpedo, R. D. 1, died at 5:30 p. m. Tuesday in Warren General Hospital, where he was admitted after he had suffered a heart attack at noon on Monday. He had been in failing health for some time.
Besides his wife, Frances, he leaves three children, John, Frank and Evelyn, at home; also his mother, Mrs. Nellie Flementosh, Meadville, R. D. 3; two brothers, Matt, of Meadville, and Nick, of Cornunna, Mich.; one sister, Mrs. Mary Hatzo, Cleveland, O.
Removal has been made to the Young Funeral Home in Youngsville, the body to be taken to the family home Thursday, afternoon. Additional details for services in his memory have not been completed.

DR. ROY E. MYERS
Erle, April 27—(P)—Funeral services will be held tomorrow at the first Methodist church for Dr. E. Roy Myers, pastor of the first church and former Superintendent of the Meadville district.
Dr. Myers died Monday night of a stroke. Methodist Bishop Lloyd E. Colley, superintendent of the Meadville District, will preside.

HANNAH C. HILL
Hanna C. Hill, widow of Charles P. Hill, died at 7:30 o'clock this morning at her home, 315 West Fifth avenue.
Mrs. Hill was born in Stockholm, Sweden, on March 12, 1864, and had lived in Warren for more than 70 years.
She was a faithful member of the First Lutheran church, the Ladies Aid Society, and the Home Department.

Surviving are the following sons and daughters: Henry W. Hill, Fullerton, Calif.; A. Martin Hill of Charleston, W. Va.; Donald R. Hill, 4411, Pittsburgh; and P. Elmer Hill, Miss Mabel Hill, Miss Harriet Hill, and John L. Hill, all of Warren.
Services will be held at the Lutz funeral home Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with the Rev. Edward K. Rogers, pastor of the First Lutheran church, officiating. Burial will be in Pine Grove cemetery.

JENNIE MAY BERDINE
Mrs. Jennie May Berdine, 114 East street, died at 9:45 p. m. Tuesday in Warren General Hospital, aged 74 years. Born in Little Meadows, Pa., on April 8, 1875, she had lived in this community for the past 46 years and was the widow of Joan P. Berdine, former sheriff of Warren county, who preceded her in death in 1940.
Surviving her are the following: Sons: Ernest, John G. C. T. Berdine, Mrs. Lorraine Knox, and Mrs. James Hinton, all of Warren; and Jules Berdine, Erie; also 23 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren; four brothers and one sister: William an, Brookville; Madge Timlin, Fisher; Freeman Menzie, Fred Timlin, DuBois; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moorhead, Akron, O.; Mrs. James McAdoo and daughter, Norma, Clarion; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Timlin and daughter, Carla, Westleyville; Edward Becker, Sr., Corry; Dorothy Mottern, Mrs. Cora Pope, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Logan, Ralph Logan, Clarence Pasco, Jamestown, N. Y.

MRS. ELLEN MITZEL
The body of Mrs. Ellen Mitzel, wife of M. L. Mitzel, who died in Southport, Conn., will arrive Thursday morning and be removed to the Peterson Funeral Home, where friends may call during the afternoon and evening. Funeral arrangements are not yet completed, but will probably be Friday afternoon, the details to be announced later.

COLE HILL
Cole Hill, April 26—Rev. Veri Walker, of Tidoute, conducted his first church services in the Torpedo Community church Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock on a schedule of services to continue the last Sunday of every month. While Mrs. Walker played several songs, the people gathered at the church until about 7:30 were in the congregation, far larger than expected for the opening day. Rev. Walker expressed regret that a recording could not have been made for the radio for such a nice gathering. Rev. Walker is heard over the Warren radio station every Sunday between 9 and 9:30 o'clock by recording. This service was reported to be the first to have been held in the church in three years and the attendance Sunday shows the need of church services in the community. Besides the people of our community, there were people from Grand Valley, Garfield, Pittsfield and Irvine at the services Sunday.

Charles Howard Eastman, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Eastman, was baptised at services held in the Garland Methodist church Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock by the pastor, Rev. E. W. Chuteater, of Youngsville. Services are held every other Sunday in this church.
Rev. L. W. Frank, American Sunday School Union missionary, of Warren and Forest counties, was distributing cards notifying residents in this community Sunday of invitations to the evangelistic services which are being held nightly at 7:30 in the Bethlehem Covenant church at Warren by the (Turn to Page Eleven)

JAMES N. GRADY
Largely attended services were held at the Peterson Funeral Home at 2 p. m. Tuesday for James N. Grady, 414 Hazel street. The rites were conducted by Rev. Harold Knappenberger and Dr. H. H. Barr and the following served as bearers for interment in Oakland cemetery: Arthur Davis, Merle Morrison of Youngsville, Edward Becker, Jr., of Corry, Richard McDonald, Clifford G. Johnson and Arthur J. McDonald, Jr. Named as honorary bearers were Donald Bogart, Earl Lash, Stanley Littlebrant, Robert J. Pring, Charles Peterson and Elmer C. Peterson. Mrs. Ruth Lundquist sang two hymns, "Lead Kindly Light" and "Beyond the Sunset".
Attending the services from away were Floyd E. Grady, North Platte, Neb.; Mrs. Elda Wenner, Knox, Mr. and Mrs. J. Raymond Grady and son, Raymond A. Grady, Tusitville; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cowan, June and Lois Cow-

Strategy Meetings Over Mine Contract

Washington, April 27—(P)—John L. Lewis and leading soft coal operators scheduled rival strategy meetings today in advance of their 1949 contract negotiations.
Lewis' 200-man policy committee which met time yesterday while the Mine Workers' president met with fellow union leaders in private session, was called into conference at 10:30.
At the same hour, a dozen key coal operators who will have the last of negotiating a new contract with Lewis were invited to share ideas on policy with Ezra Van Horn, Cleveland operator.
Van Horn, the operators' trustee on the United Mine Workers welfare and pension fund, was formerly chairman of the industry negotiating committee.
Some operators indicated ahead of time they would resist any demands by Lewis which would hike the cost of coal in the face of shrinking markets and bitter competition with other industrial fuels.

Predict Early End Of Steel Shortage

Pittsburgh, April 27—(P)—Two steel company executives predicted today the demand for steel soon will slacken and that prices will drop.
President Ernest T. Weir told stockholders of National Steel Corp. he would not be surprised if the input rate of the country fell to as much as 75 per cent of capacity before the end of 1949. Basic steel prices would go lower "eventually," he added.
Weir declared "there is no thinking in terms of a wage increase inasmuch as we are in a period when we cannot afford to increase costs." He said, however, there is "no likelihood of a wage decrease."
Employees of the Weirton Steel Corp., National Steel's largest subsidiary, are represented by an independent union.
President Ben Moreell of Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. told stockholders "the sellers' market is at an end."

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL
Glenn Wall, 47, of Russell, was taken to Warren General Hospital in the Peterson ambulance at 11:45 a. m. today when he became ill while at work in the Warren Gear Manufacturing Company plant in Irvine street. His condition is reported as fair.

MEETING TONIGHT
Brotherhood members of Akeley and Russell Methodist churches invite all men of both communities to attend a meeting to be held at eight o'clock this evening in the Russell church, when Robert R. Young, of Warren High School faculty, will be the guest speaker.

LANDMARK DESTROYED
Burgettstown, April 27—(P)—The old McCurdy Mansion, a landmark here for 40 years, was destroyed by fire yesterday. The ornate 20-room house had recently been converted into four separate apartments. Firemen estimated damage at $30,000. No one was injured.

LANTERN MISSING
An East Side resident today reported that someone made off with a red lantern which he had set up as a warning signal on a sidewalk repair job in front of his home Tuesday night. He said today he "would appreciate the return of the lantern, with no questions asked, since he had borrowed it from a friend for use on the project."

Town Across From Shanghai Is Seized

Shanghai, April 27—(P)—Red guerrillas in a surprise coup today seized Putung, right across the river from Shanghai.
At the same time Nationalist troops abandoned Soochow (Wuhsi), a small city for Shanghai 50 miles to the west.
(Red possession of Putung in any strength could make all operations on the Whangpoo, including evacuation of foreigners, hazardous.)
(Right across from Putung point are the Chinese city council house, and the British and American consulates. The Whangpoo is less than one-fourth of a mile wide there.)
The Shanghai garrison, without using the word withdraw, said in a communique government troops at Soochow had "shifted their positions" to a point six miles nearer Shanghai.
Ten thousand Communist troops participated in the Soochow battle. The Nationalists said they killed 5,000 Reds.

to being invaded and occupied in the event of war even if the United States guaranteed to liberate them. Nor is it in the interest of this country, he said, to let such an invasion and occupation take place.
"Our active policy," he declared, "has given rise in Europe to a great momentum of recovery and a great increase in the will to resist. The hope for peace lies in maintaining this momentum. The free countries of western Europe must be encouraged to continue their efforts toward recovery."
"Their will to resist and their ability mutually to defend themselves must be strengthened. They must be encouraged and assisted to build up their defense forces, through self help and mutual aid, to a point where aggression cannot take place through internal disorders growing from the seeds sown by a potential aggressor, or under the guise of border incidents."
Acheson said even if the pact did not exist, the need for military help to these countries "would be the same." With the treaty, he said, the assistance would be "infinitely more effective."

Paris 'World Peace Congress' Gets Underway

Move Spiked to Finance Bonus by Tax

Legion said passage of the income tax amendment "would be a double cross to all the veterans at this time."
"We appreciate that funds will have to be raised to meet the cost of the bonus, but there are many ways to finance it without the use of either an income tax or a sales tax, which would only serve to create confusion in the minds of the general public and kill the bonus." OP Sen. John M. Walker, Republican senate leader, made the motion killing the measure. There was no objection.
Walker only 24 hours earlier pleaded for the measure's passage on the grounds "it would stop the gossip that a general sales tax would be passed two years from now to pass for the bonus."

In his letter, Sullivan expressed fear that Johnson's action might lead to additional whittling away of naval functions and added:
"However, even greater significance is the unprecedented action on the part of the secretary of defense in so drastically and arbitrarily restricting the plans of an armed service without consultation with that service."
Johnson replied with this brief statement: "I regret very much that my old friend and colleague John L. Sullivan, has joined the aircraft carrier issue on personal grounds, and I believe that he, too, will soon regret his action."

CORYDON

Corydon, Apr. 27—Mrs. J. K. Crooks, president of the Ladies Aid Society, presided at its regular meet held at her home. Rev. Tennies led devotions and conducted a period of Bible study. Supper luncheon brought the meeting to a close. Present from Kinzua were the Rev. and Mrs. DeForest Tennies.

Seventeen class mates attended a birthday party Saturday afternoon for Emmagene Zdancevich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eddy Zdancevich. Games were provided for amusement, after which the young guests enjoyed refreshments. The honored guest received numerous gifts.
Members of the Missionary Workers Society of the local Nazareth parish held its weekly meet with Mrs. Eugene Crooks. Sewing was done for the society and also for Mrs. Frank Coy, in attendance from Willow Creek.
Mrs. Lloyd Smith was hostess for the Friday Club members when three tables of 500 were scheduled for a play. The affair was brought to a close with the awarding of prizes.
Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Kraft, visiting from the Robert Ammermans at Newfong, and the William Leonards in Lockport, N. Y., have returned here. En route home they were callers of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Corbett at Conevango Valley.
Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Jones, Wilkinsburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Urks, Pittsburgh, house guests of the Carl Lubachs, have returned home.
Word has been received that Thom E. Anthony, who submitted to an operation recently in Hamot Hospital, Erie, is getting along nicely.
The O. A. Bentons and the Franklin Freemans, of Bradford, were Saturday callers of Mr. and Mrs. James Pascarella and son.
Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Learn were in Sugar Grove recently to attend funeral services for a friend.

MARKET QUOTATIONS

New York, April 27—(P)—An opening burst of demand for steel issues gave the stock market an upward flip today. Fast buying did not last very long, but leading issues advanced fractions to around a point in early dealings. Demand later faltered and the best gains were shaded. Interest in the steel section was stimulated by announcement after the close yesterday that U. S. Steel directors had voted a dividend of $1.50 a share, which compared with $1.25 paid in preceding quarters. Comments by Irving S. Olds, chairman of Big Steel, and Ben Moreel, president of Jones & Laughlin, also affected steel stocks. Stocks leaning higher included U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Jones & Laughlin, Chrysler, Goodrich, Caterpillar Tractor, Phelps Dodge, Allied Chemical, Flintknight, Safeway Stores, Nickel Plate, Illinois Central, and Paramount. On the downside were Montgomery Ward, International Harvester, Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, Lockheed, Consolidated Natural Gas, Dow Chemical, Union Carbide, Standard Oil (NJ), and Eastman Air Lines.

Boston's Sain and Giant's Jansen Early Season Flops

By JOE REICHEL
Associated Press Sports Writer

Boston's Johnny Sain and the Giant's Larry Jansen are being labeled today as the two biggest early season pitching flops of 1949.

Counted on to carry their teams this year following superlative seasons, both have been terrible disappointments. Each has started three times with nary a victory.

Sain, whose 24 triumphs last year was the biggest single factor in bringing the first National League pennant to Boston in 34 years, currently owns an inglorious 6-2 won and lost record.

Jansen, fortunate in being backed by heavy hitting support, has been charged with only one defeat, but the Giants haven't won any of the games Jansen has started.

Both had extremely rough sliding yesterday. Sain, who previously had been beaten by Philadelphia and shelled from the mound by the Giants, managed to go to the distance, but he and the Braves were handed a 5-2 shelling by the Brooklyn Dodgers at Ebbets Field. The big right-hander was tagged for nine hits including home runs by Gene Hermanski and Pee Wee Reese.

Preacher Roe spaced seven hits for his first victory for the Dodgers, who regained the league lead, a half game in front of the Pittsburgh and the Giants. Hermanski, who replaced the lightning Cal Abrams in left field, got two hits and also made the fielding gam of the game. He

Butter Krust Wins City League Crown

Butter Krust poured on the coal to cop the 1949 championship of the Class A Men's City Tenpin League in a one-game rolloff with the Building Block Works team on Penn alleys last night. Final score was 1027 to 928.

The first three men up for Butter Krust posted "good" scores, with the Clepper brothers notching 177 and 189, and Red Farr hitting 169. But Randinelli strung five strikes together for a 224, and the cleanup man, Nummy Wooster, chalked up two sets of four strikes each and filled in the open spaces with spares for a 253 clincher.

Grosch, with 206, was the only one of the Building Block Works able to get past the two-century mark. Harry Wooster had 194, Mikan had 192, Jim Thomas hit for 170 and Pappalardo posted 168.

Cornplanter Club Wins Championship Of Pistol League

Cornplanter Gun Club won the championship of the Warren Revolver League by edging the Irvine shooters, 970 to 964, in a close match on the Warren Municipal building range last night.

The special match was fired to settle a first-place tie between Cornplanter and Irvine. Each of the teams had finished the regular season with a record of 13 wins and one defeat.

Pace setters for last night's championship scrap were Ricker with 256 for Cornplanter, and Worley with 247 for Irvine.

A second special match also was fired at the Warren Municipal building in which the Youngsville American Legion team, paced by Jay Thompson with 259, defeated Company I, by a 10-point margin in 937 to 927 scoring. This match was fired to settle a tie for third place on the league ladder.

The same two teams had tried once before to settle the deadlock, but finished in a tie, with each team firing a 960 score.

Now that all of the shooting is over and the league championship and the order in which the top teams are to stand is settled, the gunners will lay their pistols down and gather around the festive board for an informal party Thursday evening.

The affair will be held at the Cornplanter Gun Club, starting at 8 o'clock.

Zale Retires After Long, Rough Craeer

Chicago, April 27.—(P)—Tony Zale, with enough gumption to admit he is over the hill, has retired from the ring after a long, brilliant, rough career.

In making his decision, the "man of steel" whose age has made him a bit rusty, surrendered a $60,000 guarantee for a return bout with Marcel Cedan. The Frenchman won Zale's middleweight boxing crown on a 12th round technical knockout in Jersey City last Sept. 21.

The two battlers had been re-matched at New York's Polo Grounds June 21. Zale, who will be 36 next month, was assured of at least $60,000 as his share.

The Tournament of Champions promoting firm now plans to give veteran Steve Belloise or probably battle-scarred Jake La Motta, the Bronx Bull, a chance at Cedan in either June or September. A Sugar Ray Robinson-Kid Gavilan welterweight title bout may be on the same card.

Zale, father of two young daughters, will not hang up his gloves. He will wear them in the role of chief instructor teaching lads of Chicago's Catholic Youth Organization how to fight.

Competition of the Youngsters Keeps Dodgers on Their Toes

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—So far it is all a wonderful dream for the Brooklyn fans, with the club as sharp and trim and smooth-running as the commercials insisted it would be.

But the pinch of unpleasant reality has already been felt in the ranks, and there will be more pinches until Burt Shotton is satisfied with team and squad.

The excitement of the season's start, and the success, drew attention away from the rough edges. But the quest for perfection was by no means in abeyance.

The speedy, merciless rejection of Harry Taylor came as a warning, as well as a blow, to the other players.

Surely it had an effect on all those who are on trial, as Taylor was, and in this bracket are such as Cal Abrams, Duke Snider, Gil Hodges and most of the younger pitchers.

They have to take this as a sign that once Shotton makes up his mind on an individual, for good or bad, he will act. And Burt can make it up in a hurry.

Poor Taylor never even got into a league game, and though he leaves under protest, kicking and pleading for another chance, the decision will not change.

Shotton's reasoning is that there are three or four pitching candidates with stronger stuff than Taylor's, and better control. So it is back to St. Paul for Harry, and let's look at the other fellows.

Now Abrams must watch his step. He didn't frighten any Giant outfielders in the opener at Ebbets Field. In four times at bat, all he could scrape up was a base on balls. Behind him are Gene Hermanski and Marvin Rackley, experienced outfielders itching to play. And if Cal doesn't hit, one of the others will play.

In his case, though, the wait may be longer. Shotton was quite familiar with Taylor's history. He simply became convinced that Harry no longer had it. For a man like Abrams, though, there must be certain considerations.

He is a rookie, which is important in itself, and he is a built-up rookie, a kid under strain. Cal is pressing, no question about it, and Shotton very probably will withhold judgment until the young man gets oriented.

Generally speaking, the Brooklyn attack is crisp and opportunistic. A top-order first baseman would help on defense. Shotton has the string on some pretty fair talent—such as Ward, Belardi, Wallace and Fondy—but these boys are not quite ripe to be harvested from the farm-club orchard.

FUNNY BUSINESS By Hershberger

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

SQUEEZE PLAY WINS THIS SLAM CONTRACT
By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service
The late Maurice Maschke of Cleveland, who was one of our finest rubber bridge and tournament players, had a pet theory about doubling slam contracts in tournaments. He used to say, "Never double a slam contract unless you have two different ways of beating it. If your opponent makes the contract doubled, you into seven no trump, which was makeable by a squeeze, if East had had two ways of setting the contract. Seven spades would have been beaten automatically, but seven no trump was made with the following play.

East opened the king of hearts, which declarer won with the ace. The queen of diamonds was cashed, and a small club led to dummy's king. The queen of clubs was cashed, and now declarer took five diamond tricks, discarding three spades and two hearts from his own hand. Next a small spade was led from dummy to the ace and the ace of clubs was cashed.
East, who was down to the queen-10 of spades and queen of hearts, was squeezed on the ace of clubs. If he let go a spade, dummy's king-nine would be good. If he discarded the queen of hearts, declarer's ten of hearts would take the thirteenth trick.

More information On Rent Control

Under the new rent law recently passed by the congress, rent adjustment granted in the Erie Rent Office will carry a landlord's assurance that all required services will be maintained. Area Rent Director Frank S. Anderson announced today.

Before ordering an adjustment in the maximum rent of any rental accommodation, the local rent office asks the landlord to certify that he is maintaining all services required by the maximum rent regulation, and that he will continue to maintain these services so long as the proposed adjustment remains in effect. Under the Housing and Rent Act of 1949, which became effective April 1st, no adjustment may be granted without this certification, Director Anderson explained.

This new requirement also applies to petitions filed before the enactment of the new legislation and still under consideration by the rent office. No further action on these petitions can be taken until the landlords sign and return the certification form which has been mailed to them. The Rent Director stated. Some 75 petitions are being held pending return of certifications. In the future, landlords will make the certification at the time of filing the request for rent adjustment.

When making a speech, President Delano Roosevelt averaged about 150 words a minute.
